Frequently Asked Questions

Q: What does my $20 pay for?

A: The $20 fee covers the materials only (sign, sign lettering, and stake). Installation services are provided at no cost to you as a service from the Woodstock Fire Rescue District.

Q: Why will they measure my driveway?

A: WFRD measures property owners' driveways to indicate the length of supply hose needed to reach the buildings on your property in order to mount an effective fire attack. Our engines have 1000' of supply hose on them; they would lay the hose at the road for green signs. Red signs indicate a driveway greater than 1000 feet, but less than 2000 feet; a sign will be placed at the 1000' mark to your buildings. For properties with special circumstances, including driveways longer than 2000 feet, a blue sign is placed at the road and the condition is placed on record in each engine so the crew can act accordingly.

Q: If I live in town should I still purchase a sign?

A: YES, it is still valuable to have a green sign if you live in town, as the crew can see the address sign from further up the street with ease. Every second counts in an emergency.
